

Master of Arts in Humanities

Curriculum

The Master of Arts in Humanities degree program is designed both for individuals wishing to enhance their knowledge and skills and for students intending to pursue a doctorate in a humanistic field. Thus, students seeking an MA in Humanities have two options, a “research” or a “professional” option. Students with plans for doctoral study should choose the research option.

Students may concentrate within one of the three main areas of study:

- Aesthetic Studies (HUAS) which concentrates on the visual and performing arts, creative writing, art history and film studies.
- History of Ideas (HUHI) which concentrates on history and philosophy.
- Studies in Literature (HUSL) which concentrates on literature, language and rhetoric.

All students must take two seminars in each of these three main areas of study.

Career Options

Graduates of the program seek positions such as: Teacher/Educator; Philosopher; Writer; Editor; Classicist; Historian; Art Historian; Museum Staff; Artist; Teacher and various positions in research or an advanced level of professional practice.

Degree Program

The MA in Humanities requires the completion of a minimum of 33 semester credit hours.
