Doctor of Philosophy in Criminology

Curriculum
The PhD in Criminology degree program is an interdisciplinary, research-oriented degree offered in conjunction with other graduate programs in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences at UT Dallas. The objective of the PhD program is to provide students a coherent, yet intellectually challenging degree that adequately prepares them to conduct research among the many aspects of criminology and criminal justice, varying with individual interests and areas of specialty. Graduates of the PhD program will be qualified to teach at the university level as professors. Graduates will also be competent to enter into analytic and administrative posts within the vast array of research and policy institutions, criminal justice organizations, and in the private sector.

Career Options
Graduates of the program seek positions such as: criminologist, policy advisor or research officer in state and federal justice agencies; academics and teaching; analytical and administrative positions in international and domestic research and policy institutions; and positions in legal and corrections systems and non-profits and private consulting.

Degree Program
The PhD in Criminology requires 75 semester credit hours minimum beyond the baccalaureate degree.

For complete admission and degree requirements, view the Graduate Catalog at catalog.utdallas.edu.

Contact Information
Rita Medford, Graduate Program Administrator
rmedford@utdallas.edu
972-883-4932
800 W. Campbell Road GR 31
Richardson, TX 75080-3021
Office - GR 2.402C

Degree Information
Dr. Nadine Connell
PhD Advisor
nmc110030@utdallas.edu
972-883-4985
Office - GR 3.520
epps.utdallas.edu