Questions & Answers about K-12 Educators’ Delegation to China

1. Who is eligible to apply?
   - K-12 district administrators, school leaders, and other education decision-makers actively seeking to develop new/expanded Chinese programs. Selected participants are expected to be actively involved in, and able to speak about their institution’s efforts to build or expand a Chinese language and culture program, or leaders of newly opened Confucius Classroom schools.
   - Participants who have not participated in the programs to China organized by Hanban/the Confucius Institute Headquarters during the last three years.
     \textit{(Multiple applicants from the same institution will be considered but each applicant is required to submit an individual application.)}

2. What cost is covered by the Program?
   The following costs are covered by the program: travel costs in China, including hotel accommodations, group meals, tour guides, admission tickets, local and inter-city transportation costs.

3. What cost is covered by the participants?
   Participants are responsible for the following costs: US domestic travel and international travel expenses; International travel insurance; US passport and visa to China application fees.

4. What places the delegation will visit in China?
   The delegation will visit Nanjing, Shanghai and Beijing. Final program itineraries will be sent to delegates one week prior to departure. Generally, each day the schedule begins in the early morning and continues through the evening. The schedule is very demanding and all delegates are expected to attend all activities and events. Therefore, delegates should verify that they are in good general health.

5. What kind of accommodation is provided?
   Single-room accommodations in three or four-star hotels will be provided. Delegates receive the names and addresses of their hotels prior to departure.

6. How can I apply to join the Delegation?
   Participants apply to the Confucius Institute at the University of Texas at Dallas by sending back the application form with signature before March 30, 2014, to Ms. Chen Wang: chen.wang12@utdallas.edu. For more information and questions, please contact Ms. Chen Wang via email or phone at 972-883-2042.
