B. Types of Officers:

1. Commissioned Officers: The University of Texas at Dallas Police Officers are commissioned through the Board of Regents of The University of Texas System and serve at the pleasure of the Chief of Police. The University Police Officers enforce traffic rules and regulations, and state laws; and investigate all criminal offenses on the University campus and accidents involving automobiles, bicycles and pedestrians.

Commissioned University Police Officers are licensed by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education, and are by statutes "peace officers," with authority granted to peace officers.

2. Non-Commissioned Officers: Non-commissioned officers control the flow of traffic, and with an entry station, limit parking on the inner part of the University campus; issue notices to those who violate administrative rules and regulations on parking and traffic control; and are responsible for locking and unlocking buildings on campus, ensuring that only those authorized persons remain in the building after hours.
