International Student Services

More than 1,300 international students, representing more than 90 countries, call UT Dallas home. Our International Student Service Office provides cultural, social and adjustment programs to help international students acclimate to campus life. UT Dallas promotes cultural programs such as workshops, social security office, career center, and University events. More information, visit utdallas.edu/student/international.

The Career Center

Although evidence of financial support is a required part of your application process, many international students are interested in opportunities to earn supplemental income. While you're here, you will have full access to the services of the University’s Career Center. The staff can help you identify internships, gain valuable and marketable skills in order to make better educational and career decisions. Learn more about the Career Center at: utdallas.edu/career.
The championship chess team.

We offer chess opportunities for every interest and skill level through:

- The inclusive chess club.
- Online "chess in education" courses for college credit.
- Chess education outreach efforts, including chess in middle school camps.

CHESS TEAM

If you like chess and are looking for a college, we would like to hear from you.

GM David Berczes

“My favorite thing about UT Dallas is that it is a small, friendly university with a wide variety of majors and programs. I really enjoy the atmosphere on campus, and I feel like I can really make a difference here.”

“I was very impressed by the chess team right after my arrival. I really like the atmosphere we have here. The players try to help each other, and you feel that if they win, you also win. It’s a very important thing!”

“I really enjoyed being a part of such a great team. My coach, Rade Milovanovic, was very helpful and supportive. I also made great friends with my teammates.”

My favorites: I really like the atmosphere on campus, and I feel like I can really make a difference here. I also really enjoy playing chess and competing in tournaments."

The team has won state, national and international titles and represents the University at the Pan-American Intercollegiate Championship, the Team Colleague Championship, the National Collegiate Chess League and annually competes in the Final Four of Chess. The team competes internationally in annual internet matches with the University of Edinburgh for the Transatlantic Cup.

Members of the UT Dallas chess team receive:

Scholarships: UT Dallas offers several chess scholarships to qualified male players. We welcome candidates who are excellent students, strong chess competitors and will contribute to the UT Dallas Chess Program.

Coaching: The University employs International Master Rade Milovanovic, Co-Champion of the 2008 U.S. Open, as the team coach.

Summer Training: The University provides opportunities for travel to tournaments on an individual basis to strengthen playing skills over the summer semester.

Institutional Support: The University administration has given strong support to the program since its inception. Unlike many American universities, we do not have a football team! Our chess players are supported by the student body, faculty and administrators for the positive atmosphere they bring to the University through tournament wins and individual recognitions. When people think of college chess, they think of UT Dallas. Learn more at utdallas.edu/chess.

Becoming a member of the UT Dallas Chess Team

The University recruits master-level players for its chess team. We provide excellent academic record and maintain a strong chess program. If you are interested in joining our team, please contact program director Jim Stallings (james.stallings@utdallas.edu) to ensure a smooth transition to UT Dallas.
