Duk-Jin Kim – Software Specialist

Duk-Jin Kim is the Software Specialist at the Institute for Data Analytics and Performance Management (IDAPM) in the Erik Jonsson School of Engineering and Computer Science at the University of Texas, Dallas. He is responsible for the data integrity and the system design, implementation and support for the E-Plan information system.

Duk-Jin’s expertise is data mining and machine learning.

Duk-Jin holds a doctorate degree in Computer Science from University of Texas at Dallas.