

Graduation

You must file a graduation application and complete 51 upper-division and a total of 120 hours to graduate from UTD. These hours may include transfer hours approved by the Records Office. Up to twelve semester hours of graduate courses may be taken as part of the hours needed to graduate. This course work will not be counted toward graduate credit. Twenty-four of your last thirty hours must be taken at UTD. To graduate, you must have an overall average of 2.0 and a 2.0 GPA in the major and related courses. Only courses taken for grades at UTD are calculated into the GPA; neither transfer courses nor credit/no credit courses are used in the calculation of your GPA. For IS students, the major and related courses are BIS 3320, a three hour IS course, 18 hours in the Concentration, and 12 hours from the Foundation considered by your Advisor most relevant to the topic of your Concentration. Similarly for AMS students, the major and related courses consist of BIS 3320, AMS 3302, a Core III and a Core IV course, 18 hours in Option area 1 and 6 hours in Option area II. For Gender Studies the major and related courses consist of 15 hours of Gender Studies Core Courses, 3 hours of Disciplinary Methods, and 24 hours of Major-related courses.
