Historical Sketch

Ola A. Sater was born on April 17, 1920 in the town of Harstad, Norway. He immigrated to the United States of America in 1925, and became a naturalized citizen in 1929. In February of 1943, he joined the United States Marine Corps, where he attained the rank of Corporal and received specialized training as a demolitions expert. He joined the 1st Marine Division in the Pacific Theater. From April 1 until July 2, 1945 he was involved in action against the Japanese forces on the island of Okinawa.

After his discharge from the military, Sater attended Catholic University in Washington, D.C. in 1946, where he majored in Engineering and Architecture. He graduated with a Bachelor's Degree in Architecture and Engineering in 1950. Sater worked at a variety of architectural and engineering firms in the New York City area, reaching the position of Senior Draftsman and Job Captain with the architectural firm The Eggers Partnership in 1975.

Sater possessed a deep interest in World War I aviation being both involved with the Cross and Cockade association and corresponding with a number of researchers and scholars about World War I aviation. Sater was especially interested in the activities and operations of No. 56 Squadron RFC/RAF. Sater, collaborated with another aviation historian, Alex Revell, on a manuscript entitled Fifty-Six, which provided a history of No. 56 Squadron, however, this work remained unpublished.

Sater passed away on June 2, 1987. He was married, but had no children. Upon his death, his niece, Dorothy Drake donated his material to the History of Aviation Collection at The University of Texas at Dallas.
