The types of missions flown by the U-17s:
Although some Air America pilots like Paul M. Severson actually flew Cessna U-17s in Laos, no Air America inventory mentions this type of aircraft. The U-17 was the military version of the Cessna 185, and the aircraft mentioned here did not belong to Air America, but to the Military Assistance Program for Laos. So they were USAF aircraft painted in the colors of the Royal Lao Air Force. All U-17s were maintained by Air America personnel at Udorn (and elsewhere) and were operated under the control of AIRA, i.e. the US Air Attaché in Laos, which means the US Ambassador at Vientiane (Fax dated 7 August 2000, sent by B.G. H. Aderholt to the author). The U-17s listed here are those known to have been flown by Air America pilots – for more details about the Royal Lao Air Force U-17s see my file RLAF U-17s at http://www.utdallas.edu/library/collections/speccoll/Leeker/index3.html.

Statistics according to official Air America documents:
As the U-17s were not part of Air America’s official fleet, there are no Company statistics.
