Actuarial Career Discovery Program

February to May 2024

Are you a college sophomore with a curiosity about actuarial careers? If so, apply to our virtual Actuarial Career Discovery Program to expand your knowledge and grow your network.

College Sophomores have the unique opportunity to connect with an advisor working in the actuarial field at Aon to learn more about a consulting career from one of our solutions team from either Health, Wealth, Risk, or Reinsurance and practice real-world scenarios during the discovery program.

- Paired with an Aon Advisor, you will connect through planned conversations throughout the program, based on availability.
- Network on valuable group calls and hear directly from Aon leaders, delivering topics on actuarial consulting, career development, opportunities at Aon, and more
- Solve case studies and complete related tasks independently and in small groups, with guidance from your advisors interested sophomores may apply now via the QR code.

We look forward to reviewing your application and helping you lay the foundation for a successful career!
