One man's fate. One team's destiny

It's the biggest sports club in Germany and one of the biggest soccer clubs in the world: FC Bayern Munich. Its road to glory, however, is paved with blood, sweat and hard work. The Nazis' rise to power in Germany signaled the end of many careers. One of the men forced to resign his post was Kurt Landauer, president of FC Bayern Munich, German and Jewish. Imprisoned in the Dachau concentration camp in 1938 but released after a month, he spent the war years in Switzerland.

In 1947, he returns to Munich to find the club in disastrous circumstances. The football field filled with rubble, the stadium in ruins, pervasive anti-Semitism, inexplicable financial transactions that have nearly bankrupted the club...

Landauer accepts the nearly hopeless task of rebuilding both the stadium and the team, whereby he is able to draw upon his previous achievements and make creative and far-sighted use of them. He must rebuild his own life, too, which means not marrying the woman he loves, and not moving to the U.S. His purpose in life is the team; his mission is to lay the foundation stone for the future success of FC Bayern Munich.

March 3 – 5, 2018

The University of Texas at Dallas
The Davidson-Gundy Alumni Center

The Ackerman Center for Holocaust Studies at The University of Texas at Dallas is the new home of The Annual Scholars' Conference on the Holocaust and the Churches. Founded in 1970 by Franklin H. Littell and Hubert G. Locke, the ASC provides an invaluable forum for scholars to discuss and advance Holocaust research, ensuring the valuable lessons of the Holocaust remain relevant for today’s world.

We invite you to be a part of this important conference and join us as we welcome Holocaust scholars from across the globe to UT Dallas. This year’s theme is “Critical Moments in the History and Memory of the Holocaust.”

The presentations on Sunday and Monday are open to the public and free of charge, but registration is required.

More information, including the link to pre-register, can be found online.

May 2  Lecture:
“Unwelcome Exiles: Jewish Refugees in Mexico”
Dr. Daniela Gleizer
7 p.m. | Davidson Auditorium
Jindal School of Management

Presented in conjunction with the Southwest Jewish Congress, AJC Dallas, The Center for US-Latin America Initiatives at UT Dallas, and The Consulate-General of Mexico in Dallas.

Dr. Gleizer will discuss her comprehensive investigation into the selectiveness and discretionary implementation of post-revolutionary Mexican immigration policy. This policy sought to preserve mestizaje—the country’s blend of Spanish and Indigenous people and the ideological basis of national identity—by turning away foreigners considered “inassimilable” and therefore “undesirable.” Through her analysis of Mexico’s role in the rescue of refugees in the 1930s and 40s, Dr. Gleizer challenges the country’s traditional image of itself as a nation that welcomes the persecuted.
TEACHING THE PAST, CHANGING THE FUTURE

For more than thirty years, the Ackerman Center for Holocaust Studies at The University of Texas at Dallas has served the students of UT Dallas and the Dallas Metroplex by teaching the history and legacy of the Holocaust both in the classroom and through public events.
