

Call for applications:
2017-2018 Edith O'Donnell Graduate Fellowships
at the Edith O'Donnell Institute of Art History

The Edith O'Donnell Institute of Art History invites applications from current PhD students in Arts & Humanities at UT Dallas to apply for a limited number of 2017-2018 Edith O'Donnell Graduate Fellowships to support the completion of the dissertation.

We welcome applications both from students working on art history and aesthetic studies topics and from other humanities students (in history, philosophy, and literature, for example) whose work has the potential to intersect in productive ways with the field of art history.

To be eligible applicants must have passed their field exams (by the end of the Spring 2017 semester) and made significant progress on the dissertation. Applications will be judged on the basis of merit and potential; preference will be given to applicants who will complete the dissertation during the fellowship year.

For the 2017-2018 academic year each Fellow will be awarded a stipend, tuition waiver, and a private study carrel at the O'Donnell Institute. During the fellowship period Fellows will be expected to dedicate themselves to their dissertations full time, in residence, and to participate in the scholarly life of the O'Donnell Institute.

To apply, please prepare the following material in an application addressed to Dr. Richard Brettell, Founding Director, and Dr. Sarah Kozlowski, Assistant Director, The Edith O'Donnell Institute of Art History.

1. A cover letter
2. A curriculum vitae
3. A 600-word description of your dissertation project (What is the body of material the dissertation treats? What questions are you asking of this material? How will you go about answering these questions? What implications does your project have for your field?)
4. A 300-word summary of work you have completed to date
5. A 300-word proposal for work to be completed during the fellowship year
6. Name and contact information of the primary dissertation advisor(s)

Please submit these materials in a single pdf, using your last name as the file name, to Sarah Kozlowski (sarah.kozlowski@utdallas.edu) by Monday, March 20, 2017.
