Mackenroth rose to fame as a designer on the hit reality show, Project Runway. Since that time he has used his visibility to draw attention and awareness to HIV issues. After being diagnosed as HIV positive in 1989, Mackenroth has worked tirelessly to combat the stigma associated with HIV by living openly and being a role model through his professional and athletic endeavors.

Special Host: Jack Mackenroth
AIDS Activist and Project Runaway Competitor

The 2015 Diversity Awards Ceremony will be a particularly significant event as The Office of Diversity and Community Engagement (ODCE) will celebrate its 6th anniversary. The Diversity Awards Ceremony is the culmination of the ODCE’s many programs and initiatives throughout the year. This year, the Diversity Awards will bring together 300 guests in the UT Dallas Alexander Clark Center. The ceremony will include:

- A special performance by the winner of the UT Dallas Slam Poetry Competition.
- A testimonial by a UT Dallas Diversity Retention Scholarship Recipient.
- Presentation of the 2015 UT Dallas Champions of Diversity. Awards will recognize: faculty, staff, students, community and corporate awardees.
