The Aage and Margareta Moller Endowed Scholarship is a declaration of their support for The University of Texas at Dallas.

- Recipients will be chosen based on financial need. A Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is not required to determine financial need, but a financial needs analysis must be completed by the UT Dallas Office of Financial Aid in cases where students are unable to submit a FAFSA.
- This scholarship is administered under the direction of the Dean for Undergraduate Education.
- A preference will be given to undergraduate students, although graduate students may be considered based on compelling financial need.
- Preference will be given to students with the greatest financial need and for students who do not meet criteria for other sources of financial aid.
- Scholarships will be awarded competitively and in the minimum amounts (currently $1,000) necessary to qualify for in-state tuition rates.

To be considered, students must return a completed and signed application, including their personal narrative. Please include student ID on your narrative.

The Academic Excellence Scholarship Program is the flagship program of the University. Undergraduate students admitted to the University of Texas are automatically reviewed for scholarships through this program. All decisions are made through the Undergraduate Dean's Office.

The Ahmed Family Bangladesh Scholarship is for either undergraduate or graduate students with a minimum 3.5 cumulative GPA. The Bryce and Jonelle Jordan Scholarship Fund was established in 1981 to support undergraduate music students at the University of Texas at Dallas. Bryce Jordan, flutist and musicologist, was the first President of UT Dallas. It has since been extended, with Dr. Jordan's approval, to provide financial support for undergraduate students in any of the creative and performing arts. The School of Arts and Humanities awards these scholarships in the Art and Performance area, which includes music, theatre, dance, creative writing and the visual arts. Scholarships are awarded from $500 to $1,000 per long semester to students who are or will be full-time students. Preference is given to students who major within the School of Arts and Humanities but may also be awarded to students who minor in the arts. Scholarships are awarded over the two long semesters (Fall and Spring), half payable in each semester. Scholarship recipients must enroll in at least one course in the Art and Performance area (usually an upper level performing ensemble or studio course, or an upper level creative writing course) during each semester. For more information about courses in the arts, visit the course descriptions page.

Students who are currently receiving an academic scholarship that covers full tuition and fees are not eligible. These scholarships include, but are not limited to, Academic Distinction Scholarships, Academic Honors Scholarships, Academic Excellence Scholarships for National Merit Scholars and the McDermott Scholars Program. Non-Texas residents who receive an award at the $1,000 level are considered in-state residents for tuition and fee purposes. Renewals are not automatic, but students may reapply for subsequent scholarships for a total scholarship period of up to four years. New and transfer students must have been accepted by the University of Texas at Dallas prior to applying for a Bryce Jordan Scholarship. Continuing students must be in good academic standing and must enroll full-time during the scholarship period.

Applications for the academic year 2015-2016 will be accepted starting January 26, 2015.

Cyber Security Scholarship

The rapid growth of the Internet and its role in every aspect of our daily lives make the cyber space a critical domain to pose security risks to individuals, businesses, corporations, organizations, national critical infrastructures, and governments. Recognizing the need for skilled professionals in the domain of cyber security, the federal government sponsors educational programs to train the next generation of cyber security professionals to maintain U.S. competitiveness in the global cyber security arena and to defend the country’s cyber infrastructure against cyber attacks.

Being an NSA/DHS Center for Excellence in Information Assurance Education and Research, UTD participates in this effort to train the next generation of cyber security professionals. Cyber security education programs at UTD include an undergraduate level certification program, a minor in information assurance, a graduate level certification program and graduate level concentration track program in information assurance.

In addition, UTD participates in federally supported cyber security scholarship programs to train our students in technical cyber security domain to prepare them for jobs in federal government or industry. Scholarships are available at both undergraduate and graduate levels and cover student expenses during the last two years of their education programs. Scholarships pay for full tuition and fees and provide stipend to cover room/board and living expenses during the 9-month academic year.

Fifth-Year Accounting Scholarship
5th Year Accounting Students AIM

The purpose of the Texas State Board of Public Accountancy (the Board) Fifth-Year Accounting Student Scholarship Program is to provide financial assistance to students intending to take the CPA examination. The exam is conducted for the purpose of evaluating a candidate's knowledge, skills, and abilities for the purpose of granting the certificate of certified public accountant and thus increases the number of highly trained and educated Certified Public Accountants available to serve the residents of this state. The program is available to students who:

- Are classified as residents of Texas
• Are enrolled at a participating public or private, non-profit college or university in Texas, including the four community colleges (Austin Community College, Houston Community College, Lone Star College and Mountain View College) that offer a comprehensive accounting, business, and ethics program that meets the education requirements of the Board
• Are enrolled at least half-time, as defined in Board Rule 520.2(5)*
• Have submitted an Application of Intent to take the CPA examination with the Board
• Will have completed a baccalaureate degree or at least 120 hours of college coursework, including at least 15 semester hours of accounting, at the beginning of the term in which the award is being made
• Have no more than 30 semester hours remaining in courses of study to meet the following education requirements to take the CPA exam:
  o 150 semester hours of college credit;
  o 30 semester hours of upper level accounting courses;
  o 24 semester hours of upper level business courses; and o 3 semester hours of a Board-approved ethics course
• Are deemed to be making satisfactory academic progress
• Have not already been approved for or taken the CPA examination
• Have registered for the Selective Service or are exempt from this requirement
• Demonstrate financial need

* The Board defines half-time status as follows:
• Undergraduates who are enrolled or are expected to be enrolled for the equivalent of at least six but not more than nine semester credit hours.

Fred Hill Endowed Scholarship

PSCI, PA, PPPE

The Fred Hill Endowed Scholarship for Public Service was established in 2009 to honor Fred Hill, Texas Legislator from 1988 to 2008. Representative Hill, a long-time supporter of education in Texas, was an avid supporter of UT Dallas during his twenty years as a Texas Legislator. Mr. Hill supported legislation that allowed UT Dallas to authorize the admission of freshmen students in 1990 and legislation that resulted in building of the Natural Science and Engineering and Research building. Mr. Hill regularly welcomed students to his office at the state Capitol and hosted events in their honor. He also routinely employed students or alums, either as staff or as interns. Donors to the Hill Scholarship included UT Dallas administrators, local business leaders and companies. A student award is made annually. The scholarship supports an undergraduate or graduate student majoring in political science, public affairs, public policy and political economy. The student must exhibit community leadership, dedication to education, and a strong desire to make Texas a better place for all of its citizens; characteristics exhibited by Fred Hill.

Robert Plant Armstrong Scholarship

Graduate Arts & Humanities
The privately endowed Armstrong Fund in the School of Arts and Humanities at UT Dallas permits the graduate program to award a few modest fellowships each academic year. In contrast to Teaching Assistantships, which involve part-time work for the school and are based solely on students' academic record, these awards are based on financial need as well as academic merit. Thus, applicants must provide the fellowship committee information on their incomes as well as estimated expenses.

While the awards are direct payments to recipients, the school requires Armstrong fellows to study full time and expects that they use the grants toward university tuition. Indeed, most of the grants would qualify recipients for in-state tuition, should they not otherwise qualify for it. Although a student may hold a teaching assistantship and Armstrong grant simultaneously, students holding a Graduate Student Scholarship are not eligible for the Armstrong grant. If a student is awarded the Armstrong grant but withdraws from classes, the amount of the award must be paid back to the university.

Return the Armstrong Fellowship application form for academic year 2012-2013 to the Arts and Humanities Office (JO 4.510).
