These minutes are disseminated to provide timely information to the Academic Council. They have not been approved by the body in question, and, therefore, they are not the official minutes.

ACADEMIC COUNCIL MEETING MARCH 2, 2015

ABSENT: None

VISITORS: Andrew Blanchard, Caitlynn Fortner, Calvin Jamison, Serenity King, Abby Kratz, Clint Peinhardt

1. Call to Order, Announcements & Questions

Interim President Wildenthal called the meeting to order at 2:00 PM. President Wildenthal noted that March 1, 2016, the Regents made their decision regarding the tuition and fees increase. The increase wasn't as much as hoped, but it was not zero. He then opened the floor to questions, but there were none.

2. Approval of the Agenda

Colleen Dutton requested to be moved to item 5 as she has a scheduling conflict. Richard Scotch made a motion to approve the amended agenda. Ravi Prakash seconded. The motion carried.

3. Approval of Minutes

Matt Brown moved to approve the minutes as circulated. Richard Scotch seconded. The minutes were approved.

4. Speaker's Report

1. Speaker Redman apologized to Judy Barnes, and Rina Piper. He had been notified of the scheduling change for the Commencement Committee, but he had not seen it.
2. Speaker Redman noted the proliferation of non-university and non-senate committees that call themselves committees, although they are not sanctioned through proper channels. Regardless if the committee is a Senate or an official University Committee, the committee must have a charge, and the membership must be considered by the Committee on Committees. The Faculty Senate approves the Senate committee appointments, and forwards the recommendations for University Committees to the president's office. Recently Speaker Redman was summoned to a compliance committee meeting. Per Colleen Dutton, the university has had a compliance committee for a long time, and it is under the guidance of James Dockery. Also recently Speaker Redman was summoned to a Title IX committee, which he had never heard from before. The committee meets the first Friday of the month, however Speaker Redman has a class conflict on Fridays. It is Speaker Redman's opinion that that the committee is not considered a "University Committee" in the university's eyes. There is nothing wrong with Mr. Dockery gathering a group of people to have coffee and listen to their concerns. It disturbs Speaker Redman that people are creating committees, and giving unauthorized status to them. He requested opinions and guidance on this topic from the Council. Murray Leaf noted there has been a problem getting a proper set of understandings with Mr. Dockery. The Title IX Committee mentioned is actually a compliance subcommittee to the President's Cabinet. That committee is made up of all those in the university that are dealing with compliance matters. That type of committee is not problematic. There is a serious problem with Mr. Dockery and the Compliance Office, and it would be helpful for the Senate to provide guidance that Mr. Dockery and his office might respond to. Murray Leaf moved to place a 'Consideration of Senate on the Interpretation of Title 9' on the March Senate agenda. Tres Thompson seconded the motion. Caitlynn Fortner requested a formal definition of what a "university committee" is. Speaker Redman responded that the role of a University Committee was to interrupt academic policy, and in executive matters give a report at the end of the year on those actions. The charge of the committee gives the members their direction and purpose. There was no further discussion. The motion carried.

3. The 2017 Faculty senate nomination period has begun. At this point there are 23 individuals with 2 nominating petitions, 20 with one petition, and 6 who have withdrawn.
4. All other items were on the agenda.

5. Presentation: Consensual Relationship Policy Training - Colleen Dutton

Murray Leaf moved to place a presentation on the Consensual Relationship Policy on the March agenda. Tonya Wissinger seconded. The motion carried.

6. Update on the UT Dallas' Reaffirmation Project – Serenity King

Serenity King thanked Richard Scotch, David Cordell, and Murray Leaf for attending a session with Dr. Wheelan on March 1, 2016. The visit was mutually beneficial. Dr. Wheelan was impressed by growth and focus on student success. When Serenity King met with her one-on-one Dr. Wheelan spoke at length on how the university needs to sustain the progress through the leadership transition and beyond. Serenity King wanted to call the Council's attention that the deadline for proposals to attend the annual meeting is March 17, 2016. Dr. Wheelan strongly suggested that UT Dallas present the Student Success Center as a QEP success story. Serenity King's team is working on the proposal to add that point.

The final scheduled lunch-and-learn session was March 3, 2016. It was in JSOM 11.210, and was open to all faculty. There has been feedback that there should be monthly meetings. Serenity King will schedule additional meetings for anyone who would like to attend. The focus of the lunch-and-learn is the other 95 principles other than the assessment principle.

The Reaffirmation Committee Meetings will begin in March. The Steering Committee will be the first to meet. The appointment letters have been sent out and they are beginning to be sent back to Serenity King's office. Also in March, the Program Head meetings will start. Due to the nature of the meetings and the principles being discussed, each attendee must be a program head or associate program head. It cannot be an associate dean, or Dean.

7. Incoming President's Comments- Dr. Richard Benson

Members and attendees to the Council introduced themselves. Dr. Benson noted that he wished he could have come on campus during the search process, but now that he is on campus he hopes to get to know everyone on campus. He has done a lot of homework to the extent that he could about the university. He has been given a lot of material, including the strategic plan. Unfortunately, because of the nature of the material, his knowledge of the University ends in 2013. Things are now falling into place now as he has learned more about the past few years. He has been doing virtual tours of the campus by visiting various websites, and learning about the campus. He is attempting to be a quick study on UT Dallas.

There were 3 factors that led him to apply and accept the job. If he had wanted to stay in his engineering field, he would have stayed where he was. The attractions of UT Dallas are three fold. The first point was that he wanted to work across the whole University. He is an engineer but he wanted to work outside his department and college. The second was the ability to link UTD's future to the surrounding community. In the past he has linked his research to local companies. There is a desire to leverage the resources available in the Metroplex around the university. The third was the colossal growth of infrastructure on the campus. That great growth, especial during David Daniel's years, held a great attraction to him. The only thing that concerns him is that he is following a very successful, and popular president. In the past he has taken positions where the previous person was not well liked, and now he following someone who was very capable.

Dr. Benson will be officially starting on July 15th, 2016. He hopes to visit more, and should be more frequently on campus following Virginia Tech's commencement. He has been asked what he would want to change, he will think upon it, but give him a few months into the job before he can give a clear answer. In the meantime, he wants to understand the makings of the current success, and proceed from there. Speaker Redman noted that the State of the University address might take place in late September, and that would be an excellent time for him to provide those thoughts.

8. FAC/TCFS Report- Murray Leaf

The TCFS met February 26-27, 2016, in Austin. Murray Leaf and David Cordell represented UT Dallas.

TCFS meeting are always joint with Texas AAUP and the Texas Association of College Teachers (TACI) and some of the events are attended by all.

Although the TCFS had panels on a number of topics of concern, none led to any definite action.

The first speaker was Dr. Anita Levy, Senior Program Officer, Department of Academic Freedom, Tenure, & Governance, American Association of University Professors. Her topic was the Texas campus carry law, from the point of view its effect on academic freedom. The advice given to faculty at the U of Houston to avoid controversial or provocative subjects or views, had just been circulated to the members. Her argument can be summarized as saying that there was a case to be made on several grounds, but it would difficult to get a court to support it.

The second speaker was Dr. David Gardner, Deputy Commissioner/Chief Academic Officer, Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board. The topic was 60 X 30 TX. Dr. Gardner had been invited in response to concerns about the document at the previous TCFS meeting, on two counts. The first was that there seemed to be no faculty input into the document. The second was that the emphasis on “job skills” undervalued what higher education actually was and did, and thereby also trivialized it. Dr. Gardner did a great deal of talking and no notable listening. He repeated that he and the CB recognized that what education in the liberal arts normally conveys, such as the ability to read and write literately and think critically, are in fact valued by employers, but also argued that therefore what the CB was urging was only what we were doing already.

The third session on the first day were Michel Conroy and Debra Feakes, from Texas State University, who described measures they have been taking to more fully integrate non-tenure-system faculty and provide them better security of employment. One was to issue what they described as five year contracts renewed annually. Another was several related provisions for time for professional development that could be included in the contracts. They seemed to reflect a very constructive attitude on the part of the university, and conveyed the impression that it was well received by the concerned NTS faculty.

The fourth session was on online students and online faculty. The panel described areas where the technology was useful and reached student who otherwise would not have access. It did not address the areas in which it is being urged and where it is not likely to be beneficial. In discussion, the question of cheating was brought up. It appears to be a widespread problem, although there are countermeasures that do seem to work—and to radically reduce enrollments.

The final event was campus reports. The members had agreed to ask themselves what they were doing with campus carry, and President Cooper asked them to focus on this in their verbal presentations. Most did. Most reported doing essentially what UT Austin was known to have done. This did not lead to anything actionable, nor to any other topics. A few mentioned in addition that they were concerned with rewriting policies, mainly in promotion and tenure.

The next morning, the members discussed issues that might be of general interest for future meetings. The clearest was the problem of stating criteria for faculty evaluation for promotion and tenure and also calibrating them with criteria for retention and promotion of non-tenure-system faculty. Another was alternative forms of faculty governance organization.

This was followed by a report from a subcommittee on shared governance by Jill Graper Hernandez, UTSA. They are just getting started; the members agreed that they should continue.

Murray Leaf asked the body to consider the possibility of urging Senator Seliger to reintroduce a version of SB 15 from the 2013 legislative session, and of promoting support for it. This was a bill to clarify and circumscribe the powers of regents in relation to those of chancellors at the systems of “governance.” Most the members were unaware of it. The members agreed to authorize an email discussion and ballot on a resolution of support before June, 2016. Before then, the members will circulate the text of the bill on their campuses and seek discussion and reactions.

Elections were held. Jim Woosley, Texas A&M was elected President-Elect. New Vice-Presidents were elected for the West Region, Northeast Region, and Southeast Region.

9. Student Government Report- Caitlynn Fortner

Since early Fall 2015 semester Student Government (SG) has been pushing for a Green Fund. However in light of the current political environment, and in an effort to be fiscally conservative and responsible, SG decided it would make more sense to create something similar to a quality enhancement plan (QEP). A group would collect ideas, select one, and then advocate for that proposal. They are no longer pushing for a green fee.

SG has been meeting with James Dockery and the Title IX office. Many of their questions and concerns were cleared up. A new individual is about to add considerable material to the website, including a set of frequently asked questions. There is still one issue that SG cannot agree on – the ‘mandatory reporting’ portion of the policy. While SG representatives understand the necessity of mandatory reporting, they believe it should be part of the policy that those mandatory reporters must make it known they are mandatory reporters if they feel that something is about to be divulged that will necessitate reporting. SG found a document from the Office of Civil Rights that was published in 2012 and relates to the interpretation of Title IX. They think that mandatory reporting is required. SG will be passing a resolution reaffirming that point in the hopes that it will be more of a prominent feature in the Title IX training.

Caitlynn Fortner noted that the next SG election will take place by the end of March. Her successor will be noted, and will be directed to the Faculty Senate.

10. CEP Recommendations- Clint Peinhardt

A. Late Catalog Additions- Undergraduate

Two new courses from ENCS, six from EPPS, eight from JSOM, and one from NSM for a total of 17 new courses. The IMS courses were added for study abroad students. MATH 4390 was reinstated to the catalog as it was removed in error. OPRE 4350 was a course that was never taught, therefore the number could be reused. The other new courses were due to the recently added majors.

B. Late Catalog Additions- Graduate

Twelve new graduate ECS courses were added. This change accommodates students who did not attend UTD as undergraduates.

C. Graduate Degree Plan Approval

At the February meeting the Senate approved the undergraduate degree plans. As before all of the changes have been compiled into a spreadsheet. If the senate had specific question on a degree plan, the full marked-up degree plan could be brought before the senate for review. The report has a column for changes and for assessment. Additional columns showed whether the faculty had mentioned a change in the curriculum in their assessment plan, or whether a change in degree plan was reflected in the current catalog. If not, it will be reflected in the next catalog. For cases in which the faculty decided that there was no rationale for a change, it is documented as ‘none’. ‘None’ in the assessment column means that an assessment was performed, but there were no changes necessary.

D. Amendments to UTDPP 1052- Policy on Procedure for Completing a Graduate Degree

The policy was sent to Senate by CEP in January, but it was sent back to Graduate Council for revision. Senators felt that three months was too long and would cause problems. The revised policy notes that there will be two months after the written results are received.

E. Clarification of Catalogue Language on TOEFL Requirements to Match Admissions Policy

Language approved by CEP was added in the document to replace the removed statement. Existing language is as follows:

Item #3

International applicants expecting to hold a non-immigrant visa type, from non-English speaking countries, whose primary language is not English and who graduated from a non-U.S. university where the language of instruction and examination was not English, must demonstrate English proficiency.

The wording was amended to the following:

International applicants must demonstrate English proficiency.

Applicants native to a country where the primary language is English and who have earned a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution of higher education where the language of instruction and examination was in English are excused from this requirement.

F. Data Science Graduate Certificate

In order to keep up with the job market demand, this certificate was created. It was a joint venture between computer science and math. The certificate will be housed in the Math department. A question was raised if this was similar to a certificate that was in JSOM. The response was that it is Algorithms not Applications is the difference.

G. Minor in Public Policy

Previously Senate approved Majors in Public Policy. Only 3 new classes were added

Murray Leaf moved to place all CEP recommendation on the senate agenda. Ravi Prakash seconded. The motion carried.

Undergraduate

These students have applied for graduation and have been reviewed by the Office of Records. The Office of Records declared that all of these students will be eligible for graduation upon the completion of the current semester's work at the necessary levels. I request, therefore, that the Academic Senate certify the students to graduate upon receipt of final grades, and notification of completion of other requirements, provided that the grades are consistent with the standards for graduation prescribed by this University. I also request that the Academic Senate certify those students designated as eligible to graduate with honors upon completion of coursework and requirements consistent with the standards at the levels offered by this University.

Item 13:

Child Care

During Exams

To the Academic Council,

This edited excerpt from one of mine students explains holes in child care coverage for students who wish to use the coverage only for evening exams that are proctored in an evening exam section only a few times during a semester.

I have encountered a few issues and I do not believe I am the only one who is experiencing them. The first is that in order to use the childcare on campus, your child must be in the center for at least one day a week. This does not work for me. I do not have weekly night classes, but I do have some night exams.

I feel that, if the university is going to schedule night exams, that the university should also have options for childcare. While there is childcare on campus, they are not always open when my exam is finished. Currently their operating hours are Monday through Thursday from 3pm-10pm.

Our physics exam is from approximately 7pm-10pm, but childcare closes at 10pm and childcare requires parents to pick up children 15 minutes before closing. I do not wish to rush my exam just to pick up my daughter "on time". I had no choice in whether or not I had a night exam.

Sometimes there are exams on Fridays, on Saturdays, and during finals week during periods when childcare is not available. Last semester I had exams on Fridays, but I was lucky enough to have my mother here to watch my daughter; however, I am sure there are other students that aren't as lucky. This semester, having my mother watch my daughter is not an option.

I believe this student is justified. She happens to be a single mom, and I believe childcare issues are having an impact on her academic performance. The student is going through channels, but the partial accommodations for this semester may not be available in the future. I

I do have a contact, Lauren DeCillis, who is the director of the Women's Center who has been attempting gain a solution to childcare issues over the past several years.

I believe the incomplete childcare solution places an undue burden on single parents of small children who are disproportionately female. I hope UTD can address the issues raised by my student.

I proctor the exam myself, and frequently answer questions during an exam that can not be addressed by a proctor at the Testing Center. Relegating a single parent to take exams in the Testing Center would place that person at a disadvantage.
