SEPTEMBER

MONEY WEEK

September 25th - Bank on a Secure Future
MC 3.610
To many people, credit cards and bank loans are seen as last resorts for when their wallet’s running dry. We say, “not so!” Join us as we talk about how to turn your bank and credit cards from a safety net to fall back on into another of many tools in your financial arsenal.

September 26th - Money Won’t Budge? Making Your Money Move for You
MC 3.610
A comprehensive and personalized budget is essential in order to safeguard your financial future. As college students, saving is a challenge in the budgeting process. We will discuss the fundamentals of creating a budget as well as important things to keep in mind to help you start saving.

September 27th - Be Your Own Boss
Blackstone Launchpad
Are you planning the next big thing or interested in learning how? Learn about the resources available to you to start your own business and meet several UTD entrepreneurs who will answer your questions in an “ask me anything” format.

OCTOBER

October 9th - Freaky Finance
MC 3.610
What’s freakier – waking up in someone else’s body or waking up with someone else in control of your money? In this workshop we’ll show you why we think it’s the latter, as well as means you can take to avoid identity theft in the future. Don’t miss it!

October 18th - Plan for the Future
MC 3.610
We don’t have DeLoreans, but that doesn’t stop the future from getting closer every day. Luckily, we don’t need sports almanacs to be prepared. Join us as we talk about the various considerations you should to take when preparing for your future at UTD and for your life beyond!

NOVEMBER

November 14th - Financers: Jeopardy War
MC 3.610
Thor, Captain America, IronMan, Hulk and the rest of the Avengers are assembling for a Jeopardy War. Over the past semester, we’ve gathered our resources and knowledge on many financial topics – banking, credit, budgeting, insurance, and many more. As the Avengers come together to tackle Thanos, we will put our financial knowledge to the test and see if UTD has what it takes to win the Jeopardy War.
